DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

The numbering of claims is not in accordance with 37 CFR 1.126 which requires the original numbering of the claims to be preserved throughout the prosecution. When claims are canceled, the remaining claims must not be renumbered. When new claims are presented, they must be numbered consecutively beginning with the number next following the highest numbered claims previously presented (whether entered or not).

Misnumbered claim 28 (the duplicate) been renumbered 29.

Drawings

Figures 1-3 should be designated by a legend such as --Prior Art-- because only that which is old is illustrated. See MPEP § 608.02(g). Corrected drawings in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled “Replacement Sheet” in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

The drawings are objected to as failing to comply with 37 CFR 1.84(p)(5) because they do not include the following reference sign(s) mentioned in the description: The drawings nor the specifications do not point out and number the first and second discharge gap/cell. Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-29 are allowed.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Claims 1-15 are allowable because prior art fails to teach or suggest, either alone or in combination, a system and method for displaying an image according to pixel data of every pixel based on an input image signal, comprising:

- Each of the light-emission areas consisting of a first discharge cell including a portion where the respective row electrodes in pair are opposed to each other with a first discharge gap in the discharge space and a second discharge cell including a portion where a light absorptive layer is provided on the front substrate's side and one row electrode of the row electrode pair and the other row electrode of the row electrode pair adjacent to the above row electrode pair are opposed to each other with a second discharge gap

- An address component for producing an address discharge within the second discharge cell selectively by applying a pixel data pulse based on the pixel data, to the respective column electrodes, while applying a scanning pulse to a row electrode having the longer distance to the first discharge cell, of the respective row electrodes within the second discharge cell, thereby setting the second discharge cell at a light-on state or a light-off state.

Claims 16-29 are allowable because prior art fails to teach or suggest, either alone or in combination, a system and method for displaying an image according to pixel data of every pixel based on an input image signal, comprising:

- Each of the light-emission areas consisting of a first discharge cell including a portion where the respective row electrodes in pair are opposed to each other with a first discharge gap in the discharge space and a second discharge cell including a portion where a light absorptive layer is provided on the front substrate's side and one row electrode of the row electrode pair and the other row electrode of the row electrode pair adjacent to the above row electrode pair are opposed to each other with a second discharge gap
- An address component for producing an address discharge within the second discharge cell selectively by applying a pixel data pulse based on the pixel data, to the respective column electrodes, while applying a scanning pulse to a row electrode having the longer distance to the first discharge cell, of the respective row electrodes within the second discharge cell, thereby setting the second discharge cell at a light-on state or a light-off state.

- A priming expansion stage for expanding a discharge toward the first discharge cell to set the first discharge cell at a light-on state, by applying a priming pulse alternately to the respective row electrodes within the second discharge cell to cause a priming discharge only in the second discharge cell that is in the light-on state;
- A sustain stage for repeatedly applying a sustain pulse alternately to the respective row electrodes within the first discharge cell to cause a sustain discharge only in the first discharge cell that is in the light-on state.

Prior art does disclose similar art although not entirely as claimed.

Hashimoto et al (US Patent No: 6,603,263 B1) teaches of multiple discharge cells but dose not teach applying the pixel data pulse as specified in claim 1.

Lim (US Patent No: 6,608,611 B2) teaches of driving a plasma display with an auxiliary discharge that is used largely to shorten the discharge delay time but dose not teach applying the pixel data pulse as specified in claim 1.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled “Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance.”
